

From the President...

Hi there fellow curlers

It is hard to believe it is February already and there are only 2 months of curling left. All of the Sections are functioning well and the ice is fantastic. We hosted a Senior Men's InterClub bonspiel last week, with teams coming from all over the region. Our guests gave nothing but rave reviews for the ice and for the food.

For the most part, the news remains good. The finances are great. The new roof has allowed us to cut our Hydro bill by almost 20%. That would normally show up dramatically on our bottom line. Unfortunately, we lost a 19% subsidy that we had during COVID. So we are basically breaking even on the Hydro, but it could have been a lot worse.

There are those who are wondering why the plastic has returned to Sheet 6. The present theory is that this dripping originates from the part of the roof that we didn't fix on the outside edges of the ice. The old insulation and poor vapour barrier continue to behave the way they have in the past. Fortunately, it is not really affecting the playing surface and there isn't nearly as much moisture as we have experienced in the past and it isn't happening as constantly. Those who know still don't see this as a major concern, so not to worry. The excellent news is that the new roof is working out really well. No problems whatsoever.

Earlier this week, when the prospect of US tariffs seemed imminent, it was suggested by some of our members that we should stop selling American made alcohol. Some products were put away and were not for sale on Monday and Tuesday night. Certainly, given the booing of the Star Spangled Banner at sporting events last weekend and government threats to retaliate by doing things like pulling all American alcohol products from the shelves of liquor stores across the country, patriotic Canadian determination to fight back was strong. Well the tariffs were postponed and so the American alcohol we normally sell is back on the shelf. We'll take a closer look at this issue at our next Board meeting and have a plan in place should the tariffs materialize at some point in the future.

I hope you all enjoy the last two months of the season. Try and make the most of them. The long hot summer is just around the corner.

Good curling everyone, David

MORE THAN A CURLING CLUB...

Salute to our Great Volunteers... our unsung heroes!
Volunteering is the backbone of PCC. This edition we chatted with long-time member, Ruth Epping, about her experiences with volunteering at the club...

How long have I been a PCC member - 43 years

How long have I curled - 52 years

Why do I curl? This has been a sport that my parents loved to play and we enjoyed curling together and meeting people.

What made me want to volunteer at the club? The junior league needed someone to step up and run the league as the coordinator had unexpected surgery. I had been helping each week anyway and new that I had lots of parents to help me along the way. It was a lot of fun and enjoyed watching the kids grow up and become wonderful curlers. This allowed me to meet more people and start being more involved in the club.

What volunteer roles have you taken over the years?

Junior Coordinator

Business Women Executive - Treasurer

Board of Director - Bar Director & Finance Director

Secretary - Kitchen Renovations

1997 Scotties Provincial - Souvenir Shop Convenor

1998 Nokia Cup - Bar Ticket Seller

Curling Instructor for Juniors, Learn To Curl and Wheelchair Program

Ice Assistant - Cleaned, Mopped & Scraped

Why do I volunteer? The reason I volunteer is that I have learned from being a long time member there is always support needed in the organization to have a successful curling club.

Does volunteering bring you joy? In what way? I love to volunteer to help in anyway I can and that the curlers in our club enjoy this sport as much as I do.

How has being a member and volunteer at PCC enriched your life? As a member of this club it truly has given me a life time of wonderful friendships, a sisterhood that I treasure, meeting new people, being sociable(cheers) and having lots of fun. As a volunteer of this club I have been very lucky in all of the opportunities and support in many of the roles I took on and assisted and continue to enjoy every minute.

Ruth

Club Volunteer Recognition...submissions requested

We are fortunate to have so many members who contribute their time to ensure the success of the club. We have mentors, trainers, Section Heads, decorators, fixer uppers, coaches and leaders to name a few ways that members make our club better. Curling Ontario supports volunteer recognition and clubs are invited to honour outstanding volunteerism. In the past, recognition was to award one Volunteer of the Year. This season there may be more than one outstanding volunteer recognized. I am asking members to submit names of volunteers that they would like recognized for their long standing volunteer contributions to the club.

Please provide the name and reason for the nomination including how they have contributed to the club, how long (if known) and the impact it has made on other members and/or the success of the club.

Please send your confidential submissions in writing to: Anne Beckett-MacNeill (place in office mail box) or email at: annebmacneill@gmail.com. Please note that there can be one nomination for a volunteer with multiple signatures to support the nomination

Please note that Board members are not eligible to be considered for this award. Past Volunteers of the Year: Kevin Casselman (2017/18); Gord Page (2018/19), Florent Latour (2019/20); Jim Watson (2020/21); Bryan Northey (2021/22); Lynne Cook & Enzo Tarantino (2022/23); Gord Schmidt (2023/24)

Thank you in advance

Coming soon....

Watch for details of a new social Corn Hole League coming soon! Details about registration and the league will be out shortly.

Novice League

Our Novice players are progressing well and enjoying the non-competitive and supportive nature of the league. In each of the last two rounds, we have been able to play against every team and it has been a great way to get to know everyone along with our social time afterwards.

On January 26, at the start of our third round, we welcomed nine members from LTC into our league. They have been placed on teams in the lead and second positions and are coming out every week. There is one LTC who is acting as a spare for us. We are enjoying how keen they are to learn and improve their curling skills. It's a pleasure getting to know them.

Highschool Curling 2024-25

The Peterborough High School Curling League has returned to the ice after a short break for exam season at the end of January. The regular season is coming to a close, with all teams having played each other once. The playoffs will begin on Feb 25th, where the top 4 boys and top 4 girls teams will face each other, eying for the title of city champions!

On the boys side, the St. Peter's #1 & #2 teams have dominated play, currently sitting in 1st & 2nd place, respectively. They are following by Holy Cross (3rd), Crestwood (4th), and Adam Scott (5th).

1st place on the girls side has been a very close battle all year long between Holy Cross, St. Peter's, and Crestwood. Currently, they are in a 3-way tie situation for 1st place. However, by virtue of tie breaking policies, Holy Cross is ranked 1st overall, followed by Crestwood (2nd) and St. Peter's (3rd). Adam Scott's two girls teams bring up the rear, sitting in 4th & 5th place.

Many of the new curlers have come a long way since October, and the experienced junior league curlers have been great models of the sport throughout the season by teaching their new teammates. We are looking forward to the playoffs!

In other high school curling news, the teams that participate in our league will also be competing on Feb 12th and 14th for a spot in the Kawartha Curling Championships, which will be held later this month in Omemee. We wish all the team's good luck and good curling!

Brad Robinson & Joe Muldoon (Convenors)

Did you know...

The sport of curling is one of those unique sports (archery is another) where persons with a disability can compete and integrate fully with able-bodied players. Here are some points of etiquette that enhance the experience of playing against or with a person using a wheelchair.

W/C curlers fully expect and accept that their opponents are going to sweep their own rocks. W/C curlers train without sweeping so there is no need for ambulatory curlers to change their game.

The most significant rule of etiquette when playing an all wheelchair team is to not sweep their rocks behind the t-line, after all they don't (can't) sweep yours so it is a matter of fairness.

A team of curlers in wheelchairs have a practiced routine of bringing rocks up to the delivery spot and of holding each other's chairs as required. There is no need for opponents to do these duties.

If you are playing on an integrated team with a curler in a wheelchair it helps with the pace of play to bring their rock forward to a spot on the centre line approximately half way between the top of the house and the near hog line. This point is the same as the spot where the guard rock is placed in doubles play.

Also, particularly for takeouts, most wheelchairs need to be held to prevent them from sliding backwards on the side of the throwing arm. To prevent a wheelchair sliding backwards during delivery, wedge your foot or broom behind the wheel on the same side as the throwing arm and hold the seat back frame with both hands.

A good practice for anyone interacting with a person with a disability is to always ask "how can I help you" before pitching in to help.

We have started planning for PCC's 150th Anniversary, taking place during the 2026/2027 curling season. There are lots of fun things to look forward to! Any suggestions or ideas, feel free to reach out to anyone on our committee!

Committee Members include: Anne Beckett-MacNeil, Soeun Khuth, Pauline Orpwood, Kim McLeod, Greg McRae, Kim MacDonald, Tammy Curtis, Emilie Metcalfe and Kelli Casselman!

Ladies Section

We ended the 2024 season with our wonderfully, generous ladies raising $2,782.00 for Kawartha Foodshare at our Holiday Luncheon. Then we started the New Year with Lunch and Learn Clinics. The last one will be on angles, run backs and raises. Our ladies with just a few years experience, right up to those who have been curling for many years have gained helpful pointers from the weekly sessions such as directional sweeping, delivery, takeouts, strategy and reading the ice.

Thank you to Lori Clark, Carol Terry, Ruth Epping, Angela Woods and Kim McLeod for their presentations and on ice tips. Leads and Seconds recently were at Peterborough Golf. They really enjoy playing different positions, including Vice and Skip; they like having a coach on the ice and they enjoy meeting players from the other clubs!

Congratulations to Skip Jane Pollock, Vice Pearl Dixon, Second Liz McDannold, Lead Christina Welton for their win at the Anne MacIntosh Invitational in Bobcaygeon recently.

Congratulations to Mary Ellen Bannon, Sue Collins, Heather Casey and Freda Latour for their first place win at the Joy Reid Memorial Bonspiel in Marmora on January 22.

The Interclub League has a bonspiel coming up this month, The Faith Ride Memorial will be held in Omeme on Feb. 26 th and PCC is sending 2 teams.

Tuesday League curlers have their last round of play beginning Feb. 18 th .

Thursday Team entry have started the playoffs with the winner of A side being crowned Club Champion. I wish all teams good luck with the rest of the season! Jane

From our Ice Maker... Ryan's Rant Volume 2

Thanks to most of you who use the sticks and stabilizers. It's been much better, but I still believe the rest of you can do better. An additional point that I forgot to add was that there is a broom closet which you get the brooms from. The racks and shelves are for the sticks and stabilizers. Please put the brooms back in the broom closet so that there is room for all of the sticks. If you can take it from there, you can put it back to there. Especially the men who have to walk right back past the closet to the locker room.

On a new note, let's address the confusion as to when is a safe time to come onto the ice after preparation. I do not care if you are on a prepped sheet while I am still nipping another one. If you're the type that pays attention, and have seen your sheet pebbled and nipped, there is nothing left for me to do and it is yours to do with as you wish. If you are not the type that pays attention and only glances out the window from time to time, a good indication that your sheet is ready is if the numbers are off the board and the hacks are in place. The HACKS are the clearest sign. Pebbled. Nipped. Hacks in. Numbers down. All yours. You do not have to wait for me to finish nipping all six, and clean the nipper, and put it away, and walk off. If you are on the last sheet nipped. We clean the nipper behind the hacks, which are 6 feet from the back line, which is another 12 feet to the guard zone which means we are roughly 20 feet from where you plan to throw your rocks. If we can't prevent a rogue guard from crashing into the nipper while cleaning it, I feel like there's a bigger problem at hand. I'm not in your way and you're not in mine. So you do not have to wait to start while the nipper is being cleaned.

For those who feel that it's best for everyone to start at the same time out of fairness for the time clock, that no one should have the advantage of starting earlier or later. Consider that you also play on a different sheet from week to week and that it will be different people that have the... five minute time advantage. Why shouldn't the motivated have an advantage anyway?

If your sheet is ready, you're wasting time if you're not getting on it as soon as you can. I'm happy to see people motivated and anxious to get on the ice. Thank you, Joanna and other day ladies for understanding and practicing this already. And thank you to Brian for trying to pass this on as well.

Ryan

Meet your Board... Torben Drewes, Membership Director

I started curling in 1967 when I was in Grade 9. The Port Arthur Curling Club had a very active high school program with two late afternoon leagues: boys and mixed. There were regular bonspiels with our cross town rivals at the Fort William club but we didn't stand much of a chance curling against people like Rick Lang. I stopped curling when I started university and, with the exception of a year in a Sunday social league for Queen's grad students, did not take up the game again until 1996. It was my good fortune to be taken on as a lead by Keith Harrison and with Ren Mann and Phil Chamberlain completing the foursome I could not have asked for a more accomplished or pleasant team to play with. When Keith retired, I joined Terry Goodwin and Ed Gilson to curl on Tuesday evenings and eventually Ed and I wound up in the Senior Men's league with Gord Schmidt and Don Jamieson. Before back issues made her quit curling, my wife Melinda and I curled a very enjoyable number of years in the Friday Evening Mixed league.

In the summer of 2021 I volunteered to join the Board as Membership Director. The Peterborough Curling Club had been a very important and valued part of my life for 25 years and it was my turn to contribute. To be honest, there is an occasional day when the job can be a bit of a pain but, on the whole, the benefits far outweigh the costs. There is a satisfaction and a greater sense of belonging that comes with taking on a governance role. Walking through the doors feels better somehow when one is contributing to the club. More importantly, being on the Board allows me to interact with more club members. I belong to the club not because of the game itself but because of the many people I am privileged to play the game with. As a Board member, I regularly talk to and work with members who I would not otherwise get to meet, from other Board members to office volunteers and to curlers at large.

My responsibilities as Membership Director center primarily on the registration process, setting up the registration page on Curling Manager, organizing the registration open house, dealing with individual registration difficulties, responding to requests for information from new members, following up on outstanding accounts and so on. Working with the Board, I am responsible for proposing membership fees, scheduling the leagues and monitoring membership trends in those leagues and in the club as a whole.

Many of our members take advantage of the symmetry of the games to golf between curling seasons. Golf does not come naturally to me and I much prefer curling ... I don't spend half the game looking for my curling stone. My one ambition in golf is to shoot my age ... because I want to live to 120. Instead, we have had a sailboat in the Cobourg harbour for the last 22 years that keeps me busy. Aquavit is a Beneteau 323 that my wife and I have sailed around Lake Ontario, up into the Thousand Islands and, along with other members of the Cobourg Yacht Club, we regularly cruise through the Murray Canal to Trenton, west to Whitby and across the lake to the Oak Orchard Yacht Club. We are also members of the Toronto Triumph Club that organizes rallies that we join in our TR6. In this way, we are able to remain socially active year round. We are also fortunate to be able to travel and, after the Covid setback, are now well on the way to emptying the bucket list. Of course, Denmark is our favourite destination since I am still in contact with family there. But we have enjoyed many other European destinations like Tuscany, France, Iceland, Norway and more.

So life is good. The game of curling and the members of the Peterborough Curling Club have a lot to do with that.

Torben

Thursday Adult Learn to Curl

The Thursday Learn to Curl group are going strong with four sheets playing three or four end games every week since the holiday break. A second strategy session was held in the second week of January. We could tell many had been watching the Grand Slam of Curling, as the discussion of potential shots for different scenarios was wide-ranging. The 12 instructors who come out every week have been helping the skips learn broom placement, shots that are more likely to be successful, as well as continue to tweak the curlers delivery and sweeping.

Many of our curlers have joined regular leagues – Monday Tag, Friday Tag, Monday Night Ladies, Novice – and have begun to spare too! Thank to you everyone for making them feel welcome. Remember our LTC curlers if you need a spare. The experience they gain through participating in regular leagues is invaluable. It lets them find out first-hand how welcoming our leagues, and club, are to new curlers.

This season's group are very dedicated and sociable. They come early to go on the ice to practice before their games, plus stay afterward for a chat, some snacks, and a drink.

We thank all the past PCC members who have donated their gently used curling shoes to the LTC program when they obtained a new pair. Several of our curlers took advantage of these used curling shoes. It saves them a bit of money, and helps them to transition easily from the club's step-on sliders to the shoe's slider. If anyone has any gently used curling shoes they no longer need, please donate them to the LTC program. You can leave them in the equipment closet near the men's locker room, or pass them along to anyone associated with LTC.

Pierre Martin

The LTC annual bonspiel takes place February 8 and is highly anticipated by the Thursday and Sunday LTC curlers. The bonspiel is two games, lunch and prizes. The winning team members get their names engraved on the bonspiel plaque. This year the bonspiel has a theme – Olympic Countries. The players have been enthusiastically discussing what their costumes will be for the bonspiel. Be sure to check-out PCC's Facebook page to see the pictures.

Sunday Adult Learn to Curl

Everybody is on the ice and honing their new skills. Lately we have been working on angles, weight control and directional sweeping as part of our game play.

The LTC bonspiel takes place on Feb 8 and skip Taylor Clysdale, and his team of Kat Clark, Roxanne Beavers and Kevin Boyd will be there fighting for Sunday LTC honour.

Thanks, as always, to the team of instructors who are there each week helping out, couldn't do it without you.

Thank an Ice Tech Week..January 12-18th

At PCC we have great ice! Before we can make all those triple tap-backs, perfect draws to the button and sensational game saving, double take-outs, we have to have a great team behind the scenes establishing a solid base of ice. Thank you to our team, Ryan and his assistant Greg, for looking after that for us! Your diligence does not go unnoticed! Having travelled to a few other clubs this season, I have noticed that our ice is far cleaner than a lot of clubs and we have great curl.

The Ladies Section Snowflake Bonspiel was a huge success with a full contingent of curlers, including 8 out of town teams and 4 PCC teams. The food prepared by Stonehouse Hall was enjoyed by all, with the dessert table being decorated with two beautiful theme cakes created by Kim MacDonald. Our Bonspiel winner was Team PGCC. The committee wishes to thank our major sponsors, John Mazziotti, IG Wealth Management, Mara Cook, Century 21 United Realty and K & J Travel/Stonehouse Hall and our numerous raffle prize sponsors for helping to make the event a great success.
